It would be a positive settlement for everyone to get this behind the DOJ. While there is certainly some truth in allegations against MS, it is akin to the tobacco settlement and prosecution which, while altruistic in public scope, was really not much more than a way for states and lawyers and the Gov. to get extra money to balance their budgets.

Please understand that most people think that it has gone far enough and that there are probably more relevant things with which to concern yourself at the DOJ.

Sincerely,
JC Gordon
